3. To Enter: This competition is dedicated to: "Your Favourite Science Book".

On 4 April 2017, Scientix will publish on its website a list of science books selected by Scientix Ambassadors in four subjects: Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths.

In order to enter this competition, teachers can from 24 to 30 April 2017 share ideas about those books and how they can be used in science lessons at school in an open discussion forum on the Scientix online portal.

Each participant can ONLY COMMENT ONCE ON EACH BOOK as his contribution to the competition.

In case a participant comments more than once on a book, the first comment will be considered as his entry to the competition.

4. Entry Restrictions: Participants can ONLY COMMENT ONCE ON EACH BOOK in the competition. Only 1 post per participant will be considered valid for the competition per book. In case a participant comments more than once on a book, the first post is considered as a valid entry.

5. Content Restrictions: Submitted content must comply with the following criteria:

- (a) Content must be original and not copied, as a whole or partly, from any other source;
- (b) Content must have been created specifically for this competition and not previously published;
- (c) Content must be truthful;
- (d) Content must not violate the rights of any third party;
- (e) Content must not be inappropriate or unfit for publication (e.g., include nudity, obscenity or hate speech);
- (f) Content must not show faces of underage students.

6. Licence of the content: Entrant accepts that the submitted content follows a Creative Commons License of Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International (CC BY-NC-SA 4.0). Details of this license can be found at: <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/>

7. Selection of Winners: At the end of the competition period, Scientix evaluators will select two submissions as winners based on the following criteria:

- (a) how well the submission captures the essence of the competition's theme
- (b) the quality of the submission (25%)
- (c) the innovation of idea and design (25%).

8. Notification of Winners: Potential winners will be contacted by the Scientix evaluators according to their method of submission.

It is the entrant's sole responsibility to assure that his/her contact information is accurate and up to date in order for Scientix to contact him/her should he/she be selected as a potential winner in the competition. In all cases, in order to remain eligible to win a prize, winner must respond to the winner notification contact (i.e, email or comment, as the case may be) and commence the prize claim procedure within 48 hours of transmission/posting of contact. In the event of noncompliance with these requirements, if potential winner cannot be reached for any reason (including failure to receive or respond to contact for any reason) or if potential winner is determined to be ineligible or otherwise in violation of these Terms and Conditions, he/she shall be disqualified and forfeit the prize. In case of prize forfeiture, alternate winner(s) will be selected.

10. Prize.

Authors of awarded contributions in this competition will be invited to a **Science Projects Workshop in Brussels, Belgium, between 23 and 25 June 2017**. Scientix will organise and cover the winners' flight to/from Brussels (up to 400 EUR) and accommodation on Friday and Saturday night in Brussels.

Prizes will be limited to only one person per winning submission, the one that submitted the content in his/her account. No prize substitution is allowed.

Flights will be only covered for countries eligible for participation in the competition.

Scientix will not reimburse any airline tickets purchased individually. Any other costs like to/from airport, local transport and/or travel insurance is at the participants' expense.

11. Releases: By accepting a prize, the winner allows Scientix to use his/her name to disseminate the results of the competition. In case of any problems during the running of the competition, Scientix keeps the right to modify any of the previous conditions.
